

FIRM PROFILE

Marler Clark is a Seattle law firm that is nationally recognized for its work on behalf of injured persons. The firm's focus is on cases that involve serious personal injury and wrongful death. Regardless of the size of the case, or the size of the defendant or its insurance company, the attorneys and staff at Marler Clark work hard to obtain a just result for each of our clients.

We understand that it is a difficult decision to hire a lawyer, but that individuals who have been injured need someone with experience to level the playing field when they face an uphill battle against a corporation or insurance company with seemingly endless legal resources. At Marler Clark, when we represent a client in a claim against a large corporation or insurance company, we bring all of our attorneys' knowledge and experience to the table so that our clients know they are not alone.

At Marler Clark, we emphasize communication with our clients, persistent advocacy, and attention to all aspects of your claim. We dedicate ourselves to looking out for the immediate needs and long-term interests of all our clients, especially injured children and their families. We also strive to make the practice of law a force for positive change in the lives of our clients, their families, and for society as a whole.
